

ABSTRACT

Electronic receipts are collected in a database. A buyer can log into the database system and retrieve receipts for the transactions in which he participated. The receipts
5 may have hyperlinks that provide additional functionality.